

My little butterfly Poem Lyrics

You held my finger in your hand,
So strong for one so small,
But life's been cruel and taken you,
You were my everything, my all.

Like a gentle butterfly,
On the breeze you'll float away,
Up to heaven you will fly,
And heaven's where you'll stay.

Of course I would have loved more time,
But it just wasn't meant to be,
Fly safe my precious butterfly,
I love you for eternity.

And though we're not together,
We will never be apart,
Your love is now a part of me,
Which will warm my broken heart.
