

Theres a gap in my heart Poem Lyrics

There's a gap in my heart that's growing,
There's a hole in my life so wide,
You're gone now and just knowing that, well Nan the tears I've cried.

There's a space in my life that hollow,
A broken heart that will not mend,
Though I must not sit and wallow,
It's hard not to, at the end.

There's a seat in the room that's empty,
A cup that is never used,
Biscuits left, there's plenty,
We just walk about confused.

For Nan there is something missing,
And we're not sure of what to do,
We are all just sat here wishing,
That the person gone, well it wasn't you.

[Theres a gap in my heart -
Funeralinspirations.co.uk](http://Funeralinspirations.co.uk)

