

You were a Father and a Son Poem Lyrics

Whether as a father,
A brother, friend or as a son,
You embraced all that life offered,
Being kind to everyone.

A man who'll we'll remember,
So many stories we could share
And, in all the words are loving,
How you'd help, listen and care.

It's no wonder then we're reeling,
Now that you've sadly passed,

But in the moments when there's darkness,
We'll all have memories that last.

However people knew you,
You were a friend to everyone,
To put simply, you were just the best
Father, friend and son.

[You were a Father and a Son -
Funeralinspirations.co.uk](http://Funeralinspirations.co.uk)

